

Predictive Behavioral Analytics

Prevent Burnout Before it Happens

Unlock What Other Analytics Tools Miss: Human Emotion

Traditional workforce analytics tell you what has happened— Anthrolytics predicts what will happen AND tells you why.

Humans are emotionally driven, and your organization's performance is powered by people. Predictive Behavioral Analytics is the only analytics solution that helps you understand the ongoing emotional wellbeing of every agent, every day.

You can proactively track emotional states like happiness, dissatisfaction, anger, and frustration, and take action before employee performance starts to decline.

See Problems Before They Start

By the time KPI changes reflect disengagement, it's often too late. Anthrolytics gives you a forward-looking view of your workforce by:

- Predicting burnout risk before employee KPI's start to suffer
- Identifying disengagement before it affects customer experience
- Measuring employee emotional impact of policy changes or new initiatives
- Offering actionable insights for early, empathetic intervention

This is not another survey tool. Anthrolytics is next-gen, AI-powered, human-centered support for your workforce. It enables you to lead with empathy.

Seamless, Secure, and Respectful

Anthrolytics is a lightweight SaaS solution that works with the systems you already have in place, without invasive data requirements,

- ✓ Supports anonymization
- ✓ Integrates with existing systems
- ✓ No PII or sensitive data required
- ✓ AI that drives ROI without replacing humans

Measurable ROI

Predictive Behavioral Analytics delivers real, measurable outcomes with attrition prediction success rates over 85% using real customer data.

We can help you extend average employee tenure by multiple months, lower costs through less recruitment and training, and improve customer satisfaction by retaining experienced, emotionally-supported agents.

Understand and Improve:

- Overall employee emotional wellbeing
- Agent engagement and burnout risk
- Impact of leadership decisions
- Wellness across teams, departments, or locations
- Early warning for individuals at risk of disengagement
- Emotional response to schedule changes, workload, and incentives

Don't wait for the exit interview.

Your workforce is already telling you how they feel.
You just need the right tools to listen—and act.
